

It's Baaaack! Presidential Pardons for 2012

We know our PWDs are not angels and about four years ago we had some fun with the stories of what we have come to call “seriously mis-behaved PWDs” by presenting Presidential Pardons at our 2008 Annual Meeting. It was a presidential election year, like 2012 will be. The 2008 slideshow of the misbehaved dogs is one of the most popular downloads at our web site.

Do you have a “I can’t believe you did that, devil dog” story about your PWD acting out, eating the oriental rugs, stealing the 3-year-old’s birthday cake or bringing in the squirrel of which they are soooo proud?

We are looking for new candidates, so stay on the look out for opportunities to document and photograph your misbehaving pups to submit them for Presidential Pardons. We’ll take the best, or should I say the worst, of the lot and create another slideshow. We’ll also present the winners/losers with a Certificate of Pardons.
